As you cross the river and look left heading to the beach. You can also get there by kayak if you are coming from a cottage up river.

A look from the deck above as patrons engage in summer conversation, of course started by Bobby C.

Every now and then you find a bar where you don't have to listen to the sounds of pool balls breaking, foosballs slapping around or darts flying by your head. Don't get me wrong those of you that know me, know I live for all that, but every now and then it's nice to find a place where you can kick back and just listen to the sound of seagulls and smell that beautiful ocean air.

Well we found one of those places this year. It's always great just going to the beach but when you have a great spot right by to quench your thirst, it makes it that much more special.

Yep, that would be the Lobster Beach House in Ogunquit, Maine. IF you have never been to Ogunquit Beach you may want to give it a try. There is a bit of parking sticker shock but if you can get over that the rest of your day will be nothing but fabulous, that's as long as you can make it to the Beach House as well. The Beach house is located on your immedioriginally from Boston where he ran clubs for 30 years is enjoying his newest lead in keeping people happy at the bar. He is filled with spirit and definitely takes the lead in keeping everyone happy. He is known for working hand in hand with associate bartender Marky Marc for the last 10 years.

Outdoor bartender

ate left as you go down Beach Street and over Ogunquit River. You can't miss it. Although I did. LOL. Now there was a bar there years ago according to Bobby Costello aka Bobby C. This bar ran up until about 2 years ago when the place burnt. Bobby said at that time he liked to keep it quite. A gentleman by the name of Roger LaPierre bought the place back in 1971 for a whopping $22,000.00 well after the fire Roger who was then 87 years old found it a bit too much for himself to rebuild. So along comes Linda Bean part of the great LL Bean legacy. She purchased the location and Wha La! There you have it. If you like bars you will like this one. The pictures you see in this article are only a small glimpse of the beauty that can only be seen by the naked eye.

I want to take a quick moment and thank General Manager Cindy Kanaley for letting us take pictures and a special thanks to our bartender Chris who served us up the most spectacular Fish & Chips and Lobster Roll lunch on our first visit. What's even more special about all this is they will be open all year. Just imagine the snow and the wind blowing across the dunes.....whoa, not just yet. Let's enjoy the fall.

Just tell em Tavern Players sent you,

Enjoy!

A wonderful evening for dining or lunch out on the deck or inside. Views of sandbars, wildlife and beaches are all part of the ambience.

Being in New England of course there is going to be a drink named after a Kennedy. Well according to Bobby C the Rose Kennedy is made with Vodka, soda water and a splash of cranberry. But if you want a double ask for an Ethel. "We recommend New Amsterdam Vodka"
